ALTHOUGH they were rivals at a "puppy match" staged by the Westlake Kennel Club in Marchbanks Park Saturday afternoon, these two pooches seemed to get along just fine together. The St. Bernard is King Ransome, 18 months old, and he's owned by Mrs. Wallace Thom of San Bruno. King won top prize in his breed. At his feet is Chubby, 13 months, the Pomeranian pride and joy of Mrs. Marie Wilton, also of San Bruno. Chubby won a third place. Mrs. Wilton is the mother-in-law of Mrs. Thom—which just might account for all the good will between the canine members of the family.

END OF A LONG DEBATE

Pacifica Signs a Sign Law

FRIDAY THE 13th of November will be a lucky day for all punctual or otherwise time-conscious citizens of Pacifica.

On and after that date, all street clocks on Pacifica sidewalks and buildings will be required by law to either keep accurate time or be removed.

The street clock regulation is just one of many provisions included in the city's new sign ordinance, adopted unanimously by the council.

The ordinance was passed without a dissenting murmur, despite the fact that it was the subject of consideration and debate longer than any other legislative item in the council's history.

Much of the controversy centered about a provision in the proposed ordinance, prohibiting all red, yellow and green neon signs within 260 feet of freeways.

The city fathers feared the colored electric lights would possibly be confused with traffic signals.

Representatives of the neon sign industry, the California Automobile Association, motel owners and other business interests appeared in force to speak against what they termed an "unreasonable" restriction.

City Mgr. Karl A. Baldwin and the councilmen studied the matter and eventually decided that provisions in the motor vehicle code already protect highway situations and consequently omitted any reference to the colored electric signs.

MOST GENERAL provisions of the new ordinance are the same as those under county legislation that has been governing Pacifica.

Regulations control the design, quality of materials, construction, location, electrification and maintenance of all signs and sign structures not located within a building.

Another controversial aspect of the ordinance concerned freeway landscaping versus billboards.

The state has promised to landscape Pacifica's new Ca-

Pacifica Man Is Seized in D.C. Shooting

A 28-year-old special police officer was charged with attempted murder Monday in connection with the shooting of a Daly City man in his home.

The victim, Russell Smith, 44, of 216 Mariposa Avenue, was wounded superficially. Police said the shooting apparently involved a case of mistaken identity.

Arrested was Billy Ray Butler, 28, of 1428 Flores Drive, Pacifica, a special officer for Henry Gross Special Patrol Service. Butler was released in $5,000 bail set by Judge Joseph deLarios of Northern Judicial Municipal Court in South San Francisco.

Smith suffered a wound in the left forearm and was treated at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in South San Frncisco. The weapon, a .38-caliber service revol-

Coast Hospital Plan Outlined

A plan under which Pacificans may be able to obtain emergency hospital facilities soon and at a reasonable cost was presented Monday night to the newly formed Emergency Hospital Steering Committee.

The committee met with doctors from the Pacifica Medical Center to discuss ways in which Pacifica could best obtain emergency facilities.

Doctors presented a plan under which center physicians would provide equipment until funds are obtained to purchase emergency hospital apparatus.

Pacifica doctors to a large degree, also would staff the facility.

James Foley, spokesman for the committee, called the plan "thoroughly workable" but said it can only exist with full community support.

"If we show an operating, going concern, the county may even be able to set aside money on the basis of a county-wide welfare endeavor" Foley added.

He said that although the new Mary's Help Hospital being built in Daly City will be of great service to Pacifica, it is a private hospital and the emergency room will be set up for persons to be admitted.

"Our emergency facility will be designed for on-the-spot immediate emergency treatment. Patients later will be transferred to the hospital of their choice," he stated.

He stressed that although the plan will use equipment now available through the medical center, the emergency hospital would be a completely separate and distinct unit.

He expressed amazement over the amount of civic support given the project even though no actual local campaign has been started.

One Pacifican has offered space in his business establishment to be used as a temporary facility and another resident has shown an inclination to donate land for a building, Foley revealed.

We Gain An Hour

It's almost time to be very concerned about time. Standard time, that is.

It begins in the North County Sunday morning, ending a six-month performance by Daylight Savings Time. To be in time with the times, you should turn all your timepieces back one hour sometime before you get up Sunday morning.

Westborough Group Seeks Council Help

District Aide Terms Move 'Grudge'

By RON BATES

Representatives of the Westborough Homeowners Improvement Association Monday night asked the South San Francisco City Council for help and advice in dissolving a partnership with the developer of their subdivision.

Ray Vetterlien, president of the association, charged that Westborough homeowners, through the existence of Westborough Water District, have been financing projects of the Callan interests, the developers.

John P. McLaughlin, a member of the water district's board of directors, however, termed the homeowners' action the result of a "personal grudge fight" between some of the association directors and the developers—with the water board caught in the middle.

Vetterlien told the council that when present homeowners in Westborough purchased their homes, they were unaware that the developer had set up a water district to issue bonds for the installation of water facilities and sewage lines and storm drains.

"It was not until we investigated our taxes that we uncovered the general obligation bonds," he said in a prepared statement. "By this time, $1.5-million of the bonds had been issued."

The association president pointed out that the Callan firm sold 350 lots without sewer

Petitions Planned By Parent Group

By MARILYN BRANNAN

Petitions for the recall of the five-member board of trustees of the Laguna Salada School District will be circulated among Pacifica residents, the chairman of a citizens' group announced this week.

Eugene Cowhig of 1026 Fassler Avenue, Pacifica, chairman of Help Eliminate Lax Planning (HELP), said the petitions are being prepared by a lawyer.

He said they will be submitted to County School Superintendent James R. Tormey who will, in turn, send them to the district attorney for reviews.

"We'll begin circulating the petitions as soon as possible," Cowhig declared. "I don't think Tormey can hold them up too long."

HELP Attack Answered by Laguna Head

Fred Lucas, superintendent of the Laguna Salada School District, commenting on impending petitions to recall the district's board of trustees, declared this week the board has worked diligently with him at all times to achieve objectives that make sense for the majority of the people in the district.

"I regret that a situation like this exists because the children are abused most when a district is upset by such action," Lucas stated.

He added that people should have the right to express their point of view and that the board should study all matters carefully.

"If some unseen factors are present that require change, the change should be made. But all factors must be considered in the light of what makes sense for all the children in the district," he asserted.

Asked to comment on a charge by Eugene Cowhig, chairman of HELP, that he (Lucas) had enlisted the aid of Mrs. Carol Schmitt to wage a counter campaign against a telephone poll of Ortega School

Bruce Hix Inks Giant Contract

Former Peninsula prep star Bruce Hix became the fourth member of the 1961 Westmoor High School championship baseball team to sign a pro contract.

Hix, 31 Castleton Drive, Daly City, was inked to a San Francisco Giant pact at his home Thursday night by Giant scout Eddie Montague.

Montague wouldn't disclose the exact amount of the contract but did admit that it was 'in excess of four figures."

Hix, who is currently playing for the Giants in the Peninsula Winter League, will report to Casagrande in March for spring training. He will then be assigned to the Fresno Giants of the California League.

"I believe that this boy is a great competitor, a fine athlete and I think that he has a chance to go all the way," said Montague. "He has shown a lot of improvement in the last couple of years," he added.

Hix is a three-time all-league baseball player from Westmoor. In 1962, as a sophomore, he beat out ex-Capuchino star Wally Bunker, who is now with the Baltimore Orioles, for the Peninsula Athletic League batting title with a .571 average.

Hix batted .517 as a junior, but skidded to a "meager" .400 average in 1964 due to a football injury.

New Construction in D. C. Dips During September

September was the slowest month of the year in building construction in Daly City, according to figures released by the Daly City Building Inspector's office.

A total of 70 permits for construction estimated to cost $396,632 were issued, including permits for 10 single family house and five apartment houses with 20 units.

The five apartment buildings brought to 76 the number of apartment buildings constructed or under construction this year, nearly tripling last year's total of 28 buildings with 438 units.

The number of units in the 76 buildings totals 833.

The estimated valuation of construction brought this year's total to $11,279,458 for 747 permits. Of this, the 76 apartment houses account for approximately $6,163,790.

This compares with an estimated valuation of $10,119,795 and 74 permits last year.

OUR HOUSE
IS SO OLD FASHIONED
THAT THE KITCHEN ISN'T
EVEN PART OF THE LIVING ROOM.

There's something about these "up to date" houses; they seem to have a rule. All rooms must spill over into each other and make one, big open arena. The family room with toys, TV and tennis shoes should look into the kitchen. The kitchen with celery, smells and sauce pans has to be open to the dining room. The dining room with rumpled napkins and crushed cigarettes should be an open extension of the living room. And on and on it goes.

Traditional Homes in Burlingame said it's about time we stopped this open season on privacy. Close off the family room and make it into a separate playroom or den. Close off the kitchen; Mom doesn't want to be reminded of the dirty dishes. Close off the dining room, the meal's over. And close off the living room. "Let's go sit in the parlour" wasn't such a bad idea after all, was it.

So Traditional Homes did just that, closed off these rooms; put privacy back into today's home. Oh, some people may call us old fashioned. But privately, between us, do you think they could be a little jealous?

If you too have some "old fashioned" ideas about houses, write and tell us. Traditional Homes, 1801 Sebastian Drive, Burlingame, California.

Friedenberg Heads Daly City C of C

David Friedenberg, a Daly City attorney, was elected president of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce Thursday at the chamber's regular monthly luncheon in the Friar Room.

He succeeds Herbert Sharpe.

Elected to serve with him were: Edward Morgan, first vice president; John Wuerthner, second vice president; Donald Munson, secretary; William Sweeney Jr., treasurer, and Alyce Brachman, acting secretary.

It was the twelfth time Sweeney has been elected treasurer.

Also elected to serve as directors were U. R. Kendree, Thomas Coyne, Joseph Rohl, Sara Cordellina and Mona Baker.

The new officers and directors will be formally installed at an installation dinner November 14 at the Olympic Club at Lakeside.

Reservations to the dinner-dance are available from the Chamber of Commerce, 6454 Mission Street, Daly City, or by calling PL 5-2262.

In other business, the chamber made more plans on a membership drive to be held soon.

A report will be made by Chamber Manager Peter Markovich at the next board meeting November 12.

Markovich pointed out that Daly City is the second largest city in San Mateo County and within three years will probably be the largest.

He said that probably the most influential important political body outside of the City Council is the Chamber of Commerce and the chamber's present 162 membership should be closer to 300.

1st National Branch Gets Federal O. K.

A Pacifica branch bank of the First National Bank of Daly City has received a green light from federal banking authorities.

Ricco Lagomarsmo, chairman of the bank's board of directors, said construction of the Pacifica branch would begin immediately and that business would begin around January 15.

He emphsized that 'this will not be a branch office but a branch bank—featuring a complete banking service for the residents of Pacifica."

The branch will be erected on a 3016-square-foot corner lot in Eureka Square Shopping Center, roughly the geographic center of Pacifica.

Plans call for the formation of an advisory board comprised of Pacifica businessmen. The board would have a status similar to that of the present First National board of directors.

It would advise directors about policies and procedures in Pacifica.

Evert Terminello, executive vice president and a director of First Natinal, said he anticipated that 75 per cent of the branch's service area would be in the City of Pacifica and that the other 25 per cent would be in the outlying districts.

Total cost of the new branch, including land, is estimated at $50,000.

First National, has been in business only 17 months but has granted loans in this period that total more than $1-million, according to Terminello.

Headquarters are in a new building at 6600 Mission Street in Daly City.

parents by HELP, Lucas replied in one word:

"Outlandish!"

He added that he himself had supplied Cowhig with a list of parents for the poll.

"The next evening the P-TA held an executive board meeting at the school and Mrs. Schmitt learned from others present that HELP was conducting a poll to see if parents would object to allowing the transported children to return to school. I was not even there," Lucas asserted.

He added that Mrs. Schmitt called him and asked for a copy of the list of parents and that he gave it to her.

"I did not solicit her aid but on the contrary called Mr. Cowhig and told him that I had given her the list," he said. And he continued:

"I told Mr. Cowhig that an administrator in all fairness must grant the same information to both sides of any district issue."

Lucas said he is shocked at the way the HELP organization claims the board refused to mention their poll at a board meeting.

"Mr. Cowhig and other members of his group were present at the meeting and it was their responsibility to bring the matter before the board.

He added that the HELP poll was distributed to board members along with a communication entitled: "What School Next Year, Mr. School Board," and the trustees believed that the poll had been called off.

He then quoted part of the communication:

"In view of the tactics used by the opposing pollsters, we elected to discontinue our telephone survey. Our further efforts appeared fruitless in view of the gross over-exaggerations implied."

When questioned regarding shuffling of students in the Fassler Avenue-Crespi Drive area, the superintendent referred to rapid population growth in the area.

"Population in our district is nine times larger than it was nine years ago and we've opened an average of at least one school per year," he explained.

He added that it is almost impossible to plan ahead when communities develop this rapidly and someone is bound to be dissatisfied.

He said that policy used in placing children throughout the school district was devised by a group of citizens who studied transportation problems for a year before they set up guidelines to advise the administration and the board.

These guidelines were adopted by the board and the administration has tried its best to follow them, Lucas stated.

Lucas said the board has taken action to select lay people in various parts of the district to augment the board in a study of transportation problems of the future.

He explained the administrative committee will study the growth picture in the district, consider possible attendance boundary changes for each school and determine the general distribution of students throughout the district.

"It is our sincere hope to keep transportation to a minimum and house children in schools closest to their homes," Lucas pointed out.

dren from Ortega to Linda Mar School.

"I've only lived in this area for a little over two years but my neighbors tell me this policy of shuffling their children from school to school seems standard procedure," Cowhig stated.

He asserted that his second grade daughter has attended four schools in her short time at school and that a third grade student next door is on her fifth school.

"Stability is vital to the development of young children but the district doesn't seem to care," he charged.

Cowhig said that HELP has nightmarish visions of children being used to fill gaps in schools throughout the valley.

"We live near the freeway and are geographically a perfect set-up for the district's shuffling," he said.

Cowhig said CORE-type picket demonstrations probably would be staged simultaneously with the circulation of the petitions.

At first we thought the picketing would help us obtain signatures but with public opinion snowballing in favor of our cause, we probably won't actually even need the demonstration excepting to lend added meaning to our actions," he asserted.

He said one of the major purposes of HELP is to persuade the district that it should count children in planning for school construction instead of continuing the "antiquated" system of counting house foundations and averaging a half a child per foundation.

Cowhig said that his group is particularly upset after what he said was a breach of agreement displayed at last week's Board of Trustee meeting.

"We had held an informal meeting with the board, which told us that if we could prove by a poll that other parents in the district would not oppose increasing class size above the 33-pupil limit then the board would consider it at their next meeting returning our children to Ortega.

"We made this poll, presented our 34-1 favorable evidence, and the board didn't even mention the existence of our poll at its official meeting as promised."

Cowhig charged that District Supt. Fred Lucas promised to consider the findings of the HELP poll but turned around and enlisted instead the aid of Mrs. Carol Schmitt of 1075 Manzanita Drive to conduct a counter campaign.

"We stopped our poll when we were only half done because we found Mrs. Schmitt had told people to hang up on us because we advocated double sessions and overloading the district," he charged. And he added:

"We want to show parents that shuffling children every year is unnecessary. Lax planning has caused it all. Playing musical chairs with our children in schools during the past years will continue for years to come unless we do something now."

ver, was found later on the Westmoor High School grounds.

Investigators said Butler had been drinking before the shooting took place.

The investigation turned up this series of events, according to Capt. Roy Beecher:

The suspect had attended a party at the home of Ralph Warren of 253 Mariposa, a Daly City policeman. When the suspect became too boisterous, he was ordered out of the home by another guest at the party.

He left the house and returned to the area later, about midnight, and called at Smith's house in the mistaken belief he was at Warren's residence.

When Smith answered the door, the suspect brandished his service revolver. In an altercation that followed, the revolver discharged.

Butler later denied that the revolver had fired while he was in Smith's home.

He was arrested a short while after the shooting by Lt. Charles Terry who said Butler was walking near the Smith residence in his bare feet.

Under questioning, Butler said he had taken off his uniform boots while sliding on the grass at Westmoor.

Terry said the investigation was continuing.

lines, water and storm drains, for approximately $8,000 each.

He said that in the sale of several lots to the developers of neighboring Foxridge, the market price per lot still would have been $8,000 if the Callan interests had installed and paid for the utilities—instead of the water district doing so.

"This had the effect of giving the Callan interests several hundred thousand dollars profit," he charged, "a profit they could not have made without the water district."

Vetterlien said that present homeowners are carrying a large tax load now for water and sewage with a good prospect this will be increased during the next two or three years.

"New developments will reduce this tax load—if we do not expand our bonded indebtedness beyond its present $1.5-million, he said. "New areas will bring our water tax down to approximately 35 cents for both present and future residents. . . ."

McLaughlin, asked to comment on Vetterlien's charges, said only 50 homeowners out of 550 attended a special meeting called last week by Vetterlien to discuss the situation.

"The rest of the people appear to be satisfied with the actions of the water board," McLaughlin said. "The presentation made by Vetterlien at the city council meeting is not representative of the people. It's not a true picture."

brillo Freeway without cost to the city as long as nearby off-premise business advertising is prohibited.

Under the ordinance, no advertising displays shall be placed or maintained on property adjacent to a section of freeway that has been, or later will be, landscaped if the display is primarily designed to be viewed by persons traveling the freeway.

The ordinance also stipulates that no sign using the words "stop," "danger," or any other word, phrase or symbol that could interfere with, mislead or confuse traffic, can be erected.

ANY EXISTING signs in conflict with the new ordinance will be required to conform to regulations or be removed entirely within 60 days following notice from the city building officials.

The ordinance sets fees, height and size limitations, design and construction specifications and provides for inspection of all signs for which a permit is required.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

1. Select the winner of each game by placing an "X" in the box on the margin side of the team you think will win. If you predict the game will end in a tie, place an "X" only in the column headed "Ties" between the two teams. If the game ends in a tie, credit will only be given tocontestants who predict the tie.

2. Write the total net yards (rushing and passing) that you think the S. F. 49'ers will make in Sunday's game in the box provided. (This estimate will only be used in case of ties between two contestants.)

3. Clip and mail the entry blank to:

FOOTBALL CONTEST
The Post
30 Park Plaza Drive
Daly City, Calif.

4. Entries must be postmarked prior to midnight Thursday of this week or delivered to The Times prior to midnight Thursday of this week. The Times is not responsible for entries lost, delayed or destroyed or which fails to reach The Times or The Post by 9:00 A.M. on Saturday.

5. To receive the cash prize the winner must pick all 15 games correctly. If the entry does not pick all games right, then the winner will receive 2 tickets to the Big Game, California vs. Stanford, on November 21. The previous week's contest cash prize will be added to the next week's contest if it is not distributed to a winner. This cash prize will be given to the winner of the final week's contest if it has not been distributed before. The final week's winner will not need to guess all 15 games to win the cash prize. COMMENT

Dolwig Merits A Solid Vote

AT A TIME when the progress of California and San Mateo County, economically, industrially, commercially, and in terms of population, is rolling forward at all-time top levels, it is fortunate for this county that it has the best representation in the State Senate that it has ever enjoyed.

This is why The Post will recommend to its readers the re-election of Richard J. "Dick" Dolwig as State Senator.

Because he is one of the most respected and most influential members of the upper house of the legislatur, he has been able to guard the interests of San Mateo County as no other man could guard them. Because he has a complete mastery of this county's legislative needs, obtained in a long and brilliant career both in the Assembly and the Senate, he can serve the county as no other man could possibly serve it.

And because he has always been a responsive, as well as a responsible, legislator, he can represent the individual citizenry of San Mateo County as no man could represent them.

IT IS NOT necessary to speak of "rewarding" Dick Dolwig by returning him to office. He has always been a leader and never a time-server. His accomplishments in the Senate on behalf of all California are the accomplishments of a man of action, a man who gets out and does things and who has been able to grasp the broad and forward-looking future greatness of this state as a reality to be realized and to be met with legislation commensurate to needs greater than those of any other state in all history.

Dick Dolwig, too, has never been a petty partisan senator and San Mateo County people of all political faiths can rely upon him to place their interests first.

It is good business for us to re-elect Dick Dolwig to the State Senate. Vote for him on November 3.

Vote 'Yes' on Prop. 9

STATE PROPOSITION 9 on the impending general election ballot is a simple constitutional amendment to provide that both charter and general law counties of California observe the 1964 Government Code provision enacted by the legislature to implement a uniform supervisorial redistricting after each decenial census.

This calls for redistricting as nearly as equal in population as may be, but in any case so that the population of every district when added to the population of any two other districts will equal at least 50 per cent of the population in the county.

It is of little effect in San Mateo County, which is one of the chartered counties, but has long since equalized supervisorial representation by voting upon supervisors at large although the candidates are required to live within decenially adjusted districts and nominally represent them. It is also of no effect in San Francisco where supervisors are elected at large.

There is no official opposition to this measure and it has the support of the County Supervisors Association.

A vote of "Yes" on Proposition 9 is recommended for such effect as it may have on counties where districting has not always been equal.

Circle Star Is Shining

Barbara Bladen

THE CIRCLE STAR Theatre's lavish production of "My Fair Lady" opened with enough Hollywood fanfare last week to put San Carlos-Redwood City on entertainment calendars for miles and miles around.

OPENING AS they did, a month after the Hyatt Music Theatre, which is only 15 miles north, didn't seem to put the new group at any disadvantage because they were ready and polished except for the 350-seat adjoining restaurant which is not completed yet.

The comfortable folding seats, excellent acoutics, well-geared stage crew, delightful singers and dancers and precise orchestra were apparent contributors to an evening that promise uncompromising enjoyment.

Jane Powell, Michael Evans, Ben Wrigley and Laurie Main can be proud of their performances, all of which were memorable in an evening that will be recorded as a new chapter in the development and accomplishments of San Mateo County.

It takes big money to produce the Lerner-Lowe-Shaw musical well. There are many, many scene changes and expensive costumes. Anything less than opulent good taste would cheapen the production and the theatre. But Circle Star management has theatrical background, experience, the formula of a year's success in their sister theatre (Melodyland, Anaheim) and respect enough for their profession to give the best.

Jane Powell, as Eliza, provides one of the most exciting moments in all of musical comedy in her phonetic achievement "The Rain in Spain." Her lovely soprano voice does such justice to the beauty of the songs and lyrics and as the caterwauling flower girl turned gracious lady, she is delightful to see and hear.

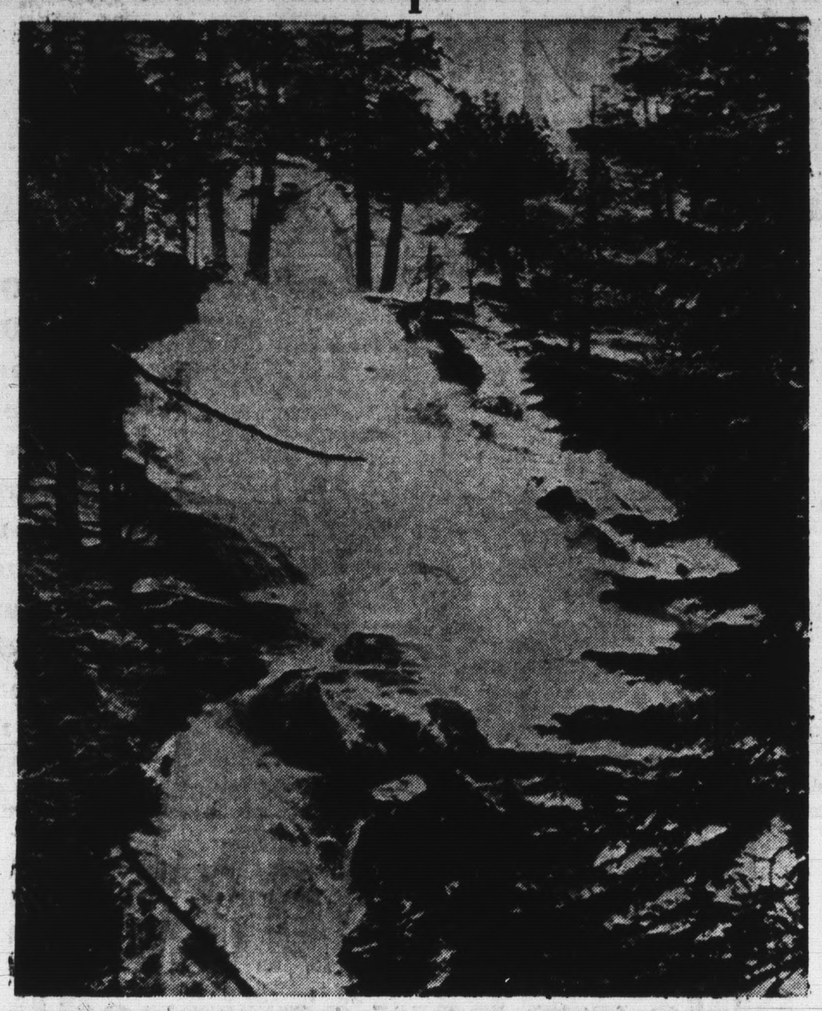
Michael Evans, nonchalant, egoist, has the role perfected to every ironic British inflection. The pompous Professor Henry Higgins is never better than when Evans is blustering "Why can't a woman be more like a man."

THE FIRST QUESTION to be asked of the new theatre is about the acoustics. I personally heard every single word. A check of other seating areas brought positive acclaim to the all important factor.

The sound technician actually controls the sound from the audience area. And considering that "My Fair Lady" with any number of Cockney, English, Welsh and Gaelic accents is the most difficult dialogue to understand, the microphone system stood the initial test successfully.

With a little bit of luck, the Peninsula will have the enormous pleasure of Circle Star Theatre's continued success. Everything about it is stamped approved, top grade and grade A.

Tahoe Splendor



EAGLE FALLS tumbles into Emerald Bay in the Lake Tahoe region. The area around the bay is one of the last parcels of Sierra Nevada splendor still remaining free from subdivisions and commercial development. The falls is located in Emerald Bay State Park, which provides the outdoors aficionado with campsites, hiking trails, fishing and boating facilities and picnic areas. The park is located on the east side of Highway 89 in El Dorado County. This is another in a series of articles on parks and historical areas within a day's driving time of the Bay Area. Garbage Can Be a Problem

Ron Bates

I NEVER thought much about garbage before I started in the newspaper business. In fact, I only thought about it when my mother, and later my wife, would remind me to empty it. That would generally be when it was overflowing.

I became a little more concerned after our first girl was born because the grinding or smashing of the garbage and the banging of cans at 4 or 5 a.m. meant my wife and I would have company in bed for those last few precious hours of sack time.

I find now that if that smashing and grinding wasn't done, that garbage would be a much bigger problem than it is already and I'd be paying much more than the $1.50 a month I do now.

I'm fortunate because my house is surrounded by other houses and freeways. I don't have to worry about a garbage dump being developed in the neighborhood, unless it's in one of my neighbors' yards.

NOT SO OVER in Brisbane. Poor Brisbane.

It is the next to newest city in San Mateo County and it has had more than its share of the headlines and stories—many of them about garbage.

The Brisbane City Council recently held one of the stormiest sessions in its brief history over garbage — a session that almost saw a couple of city fathers come to blows.

Sitting in the audience, wearing his lawyer's cap in behalf of a citizens' group, was Daly City Councilman Albert Polonsky.

I guess nobody wants a dumpy image but the physical make-up of Brisbane is such that it was going to get one. The question that only the city council could answer was—who would operate it?

THE COUNCIL had to choose between the county and a scavenger company called Sanitary Fill Incorporated.

IF THE CITY fathers chose the county, the land would have been purchased under the Federal Open Land Space Development Act.

Uncle Sugar would foot about 30 per cent of the bill and as the land was filled over, under strict government control, it would be turned into recreational area with golf courses and the like.

(South San Francisco's beautiful Oyster Point Marina, for example, was built on top of garbage fill.)

However, the county would not have the money for the purchase of the property and it wouldn't be until 1966 or 1967 before the dump would be set up.

With Sanitary Fill, the city would be getting, in plain words, a garbage dump. But there were some other inducements offered to the city.

BRISBANE WOULD receive $2,500 a month for the next 5 years, with the company giving the city $50,000 in advance. Part of that money would be earmarked for a swimming pool for Brisbane residents.

The people of Brisbane did not want either the county or Sanitary Fill—they just wanted to be left alone with no garbage dump at all. But given a choice of the two, they wanted the county and this is the position Polonsky took as lawyer for the people.

One of the Brisbane councilmen quickly alluded to Polonsky's role as a councilman in Daly City — "that city to the north that likes us so much."

(Daly City and Brisbane exchanged bitter comments a year and a half ago when Brisbane annexed the industrial section of Bayshore. That was before Polonsky's appointment to the Daly City Council.)

THE REASONING that went into the position and taken by the people and very well presented by Polonsky, is interesting.

For one, it was hoped that during the delay that would take place while the county was saving money for the land, new methods of garbage disposal would would be perfected.

For example, a method in Seattle is being tried that takes garbage, treats it chemically and makes fertilizer out of it. The thing the developers are now working on is to make it odorless.

Finally there was the possibility of the county securing a dump site near the airport. The ultimate vote was 3-2 in favor of Sanitary Fill.

Only time will tell if the right decision was made, but it definitely looks as if Brisbane's reputation as "the garbage dump of San Francisco" will become a big campaign issue in the next Brisbane City Council election.

A SIDENOTE: In hearings before the San Francisco Bay Conservation Study Committee recently in San Francisco, a public health official said that improper filling of the Bay will lead to horrible smells, such as those produced at Candlestick Cove near Brisbane by causeway construction.

Frank Stead said when the cove was shut off from open waters, it had been described as an addition to the beautiful view and an aid to creating a boating paradise.

Instead, Stead said, it became a limpid lagoon of foul odors and Candlestick Park became known as "Candlestink Park."

The Book Shelf

By SAMUEL CHANDLER
Daly City Librarian

A LETTER from H.V.L. asks me to review the sources of the many quotations I use. Okay, here goes.

Perhaps my chief source is "The Home Book of Quotations," selected and arranged by Burton Stevenson.

It contains 75,000 quotations arranged alphabetically by subject and under each subject, alphabetically by author.

Large subjects are divided into definitions, apothegms (maxims), praise and criticism.

Two indexes follow the main collection: one is an alphabetical list of authors, the other a concordance of significant words in the quotations.

They are grouped alphabetically with a reference to the page where the quotation may be found and to the number of the quotation on the page.

THE THIRD DAY, by Joseph Hayes (McGraw-Hill $4.95):

There aren't many novel ways of telling a who-dunit. But Hayes, who scored previously with "The Desperate Hours" and the Joseph Cotten play, "Calculated Risk," has hit on one in "The Third Day."

The hero finds himself on a rainy fall morning in front of New York's Hotel Plaza. Finds himself, literally, for although the Plaza's doorman seems to recognize him, he doesn't know who he is, himself.

From this begining in amnesia, the hero works himself back through a tortuous trek in psychology which uncovers a big business intrigue in his not-too-sheltered family circle, marital brinksmanship on the edge of divorce and a hushed-up scandal that turns out to be murder.

Time Marches Back—Slightly

Don Miller

IT'S THAT time of year when time, which has a dogmatic way of marching on, suddenly marches back. This general call for retreat is sounded in these parts on the last Sunday of each October.

We're speaking, of course, of the end of daylight saving time—that exceedingly popular institution we earthlings have cleverly devised to usurp the celestial constitution and sneak in 60 minutes of daylight for six months of every year.

Actually, we're not really grabbing another hour of light but merely re-distributing that which we get over a slightly altered time span.

Somehow, it seems to make little difference that DST has been with us for a good many years. For it can be reasonably predicted, on the basis of solid past performance, that this year's final DST curtain will fall this weekend amid the usual general state of confusion.

That's because, understandably, a good segment of the populace never can remember if it's time to push the hour hand forward or to give it a quick whirl backward.

JUST SO we get the record straight early in this tome on time, we'll authoritatively report (after a few mental calculations) that you'll all be in vogue this weekend if you flip those hour hands back—not forward—exactly 60 minutes.

Just when you do this can be discretionary—but within limits. That is, sometime between lights out Saturday night and on with the coffee pot Sunday morning, time, in your household, should march back. And smartly.

Failure to keep in time with the times at this time of the year will place you right in the middle of that confusion that will erupt when dawn smiles Sunday morning.

For example, since it happens every October, there's little doubt that attendance at churches will be unusually prompt. Pastor Smith will look out over the upturned faces of his flock and see a goodly number of the faithful that he usually doesn't see until around the time of the second hymn.

Being a wise man in these matters, the good reverend will know it wasn't the topic of his sermon that prompted such prompt attendance that morning but rather that the complications of daylight saving time could not be unraveled by some of the habitual late-comers.

THERE'S ALSO little doubt that telephone messages directed toward the offices of morning newspapers will jump markedly in volume Sunday morning when a legion of readers trundles out to doorsteps and discover them bare and lonely and without the faithful Morning Blast waiting to be retrieved.

This is because young minds as well as older minds can become clouded with these troublesome calculations over daylight saving time and Johnny won't be around with The Blast that morning until an hour later because he's still on the old time.

Then, too, a drive through the environs Sunday will most assuredly reveal that the number of patrons standing at bus stops seems to be a bit larger than usual and that their faces are uniformly filled with consternation.

You'll notice them checking their watches and craning their heads in the direction of the 10:42 that still isn't in sight. All this is because they, too, failed to heed the clarion call for a march backward and the 10:42 is still the 10:42 and it zoomed by exactly at 10:42—standard time!

ONE OF THE most fascinating aspects of the annual demise of daylight saving time is the day after. A walk down the main drag will disclose that there seems to be a general war on among the melange of billboard clocks, show window clocks, steeple clocks and so on that we all use to tell if we're on time for whatever we have to be on time for.

Some of these timepieces will be strictly hep and faithfully on time—standard time, that is. Their owners will have conscientiously zipped back that hour hand either before they closed up shop for the weekend (which would not be quite cricket for that would be jumping the gun) or they will have interrupted their Sunday off to drive down to the store and set things right.

On the other side of the pendulum will be those clocks that have been woefully neglected during the big march in reverse and they will merrily continue to reflect the old order of things.

Generally, as the week progresses, the war of the hours will wane and conformity will set in along the boulevard. However, a few malcontents will still be holding out at week's end and almost always these will be the steeple clocks or those guardians of the hour that are in relatively inaccessible places.

Eventually, even the holdouts will fall in line and the march of time along the avenue will once again be harmonious and rigidly in step.

THIS HAPPY state of affairs then will go on for several months until we restless mortals start tinkering with the celestial clock again and this whole business of daylight saving time gets into gear for another six months.

Which will probably be a sticky gear to get into for when you stop to think about it, trying to march time ahead can be just as trying as trying to march it back—particularly if you're behind on your sleep.

Peninsula Panorama

Dinner Time Once Was Noon

George Whitesell

IT HAS BEEN half-a-century, perhaps more, since the time when one of the biggest shifts in American life began, and this Peninsula was among the earliest parts of the naiton to make the switch in centuries of custom.

If the gentle reader can remember back to the time when noon was dinner-time, the chances are that his hair is gray—if he still has hair.

There must be a couple of generations on the Peninsula who have no recollection at all of the time when the main meal of the day was served promptly with the noon whistles.

In those days, lunch was something you carried in a bucket or mooched at the free-lunch counter in a saloon.

IN THIS CASE you got no dinner, but you could lay into the victuals a supper.

The accepted order of meals for the day was breakfast, dinner and supper.

All of these meals were usually larger than those to which we are now accustomed. People just naturally ate more and if they got fat it was no disgrace. Fat folks, in fact, were thought to be better natured than thin folks and a considerable degree of embonpoint was likely to be admired.

The taste of the day ran to well-upholstered women and a large "corporation" bulging the waistband of a gent was regarded as dignified evidence of his prosperity.

PRESIDENT William Howard Taft was thought to be a "fine figure of a man" and he was so large that it is doubful that there is a chair on the Peninsula today that would have been big enough to hold him.

Actresses of the day often ran 180 pounds, or better, on the hoof. This was not even considered "plump."

And this weight all came about because a prosperous nation ate "three square meals" a day.

It was the square meals that made them round.

In most homes, breakfast, dinner and supper were all enormous meals by present standards.

Breakfast was lavish in order to stoke up the body after fasting all night.

Dinner was the "all out" meal of the day and frequently made both the table and the diners groan.

Supper was usually a reprise of dinner with a few added knicknacks to bring up the volume.

And for all this we thought ourselves a frugal nation in comparison with others.

IN ENGLAND, for example, six meals a day were customary, breakfast, "elevenses," lunch, tea, dinner and supper.

In Austria and Germany, the schedule was even heavier and included between-meal snacks.

Peninsulans returning home on British and German ships were plied with food nearly all day long and had rolls of fat as well as a rolling gait when they disembarked.

While most of America waited until World War I to start the shift away from the traditional routine of breakfast, dinner and supper, the Peninsula was literally shocked into it much earlier, around 1906.

THIS HAPPENED when the great earthquake and fire of that year sent thousands of new residents, who promptly became conmuters, to the Peninsula cities.

Up to this time most of the commuters, and there were not many, were "well-fixed" folk who considered their homes to be country estates.

But rich, or otherwise, the commuter who wanted to eat his main meal at home was forced to eat in the evening and began to call it dinner.

Thus supper was traded for lunch and there are still a lot of people who think this was no bargain.

NOWADAYS nearly all Peninsulans have their dinner in the evening, irrespective of whether they are commuters.

About the only vestige of the old noon dinner that lives on is the early Sunday dinner still enjoyed by many.

For better, or for worse, we traded our birthright of supper for a lunch that often doesn't amount to much.

Four new officers have been added to the Pacifica Police Department, according to Chief Neil Tremaine.

The new patrolmen are Richard Hillman, 23, of Fairmont; Berwyn Manley, 24, of Pacific Manor; Douglas Freutel, 21, of Montara, and Richard Comollo, 23, of Daly City.

THE FIFTY-PLUS Club of Pacifica, that vigorous and very energetic group of youthful senior citizens, will present their third annual benefit program this Sunday afternoon in the auditorium of the Sharp Park School. According to Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan, this year the event will be in the form of a salad and dessert luncheon to be followed by an excellent program of local talent.

The dancers among the club's membership again will perform under the direction of Mrs. Francis Brydone-jack. In addition to the spirited and colorful program of dance that they presented for the Art and Fuchsia Festival, they will do two new numbers.

Official soloist for the day will be Rung Hasselgren who has also consented to lead a "Sing Along With Rung" section of the program. Rosella Kellam will lead the choral group as they present two numbers. Illustrated songs, "I Left My Heart in San Francisco" and "I Love You California" will be sung by Janet Rooker, Clara Williams, Mrs. Hasselgren and Stephen Holiness. Mrs. Jane McKinney will be the accompanist.

Other features of the delightful program include two readings to be delivered by Mrs. Calhan, "My First Recital" and "The Road to Vagabondia." Mrs. Calhan will also be mistress of ceremonies. Miss Pacifica, Theresa Foley, will be on hand to present the lucky winners with their door prizes.

In a more serious vein, Stanley Epstein, recreation director for the Menlo Park sector of the Palo Alto Veterans' Administration Hospital, will speak briefly outlining the work of the hospital and to express formal appreciation for the assistance given by the Fifty-Plus Club.

The group has, in past years, donated lap robes, bed throws, and Bingo gifts to the hospital and, for the past two years, they have sponsored Christmas parties for the 86 World War I veterans in Building 16-North. According to Mrs. Calhan, the club anticipates the continuation of this assistance program and will again host the holiday party on December 19.

The public is cordially invited to attend and support the Senior Citizens' luncheon event, Mrs. Calhan said. Adults attending the luncheon program will be asked to make a donation of $1.75 each and children between the ages of 5 and 12 will be asked to donate 75 cents. There will be no charge for youngsters under five, Mrs. Calhan has announced.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

TODAY'S IDEAS would fit into any kind of weather or cooking mood, for they all fall into the category of plain, good food. But I think they would be especially good to make on a day when it's chilly enough that working in a warm kitchen is pleasureable. We'll start with the entree and go right through to dessert, a complete meal.

MENU

Meat Loaf Hot Slaw
Potatoes on the Half Shell
Pineapple Upside-Down Cake

As you will see in the instructions for making your meat loaf, it has to be started earlier in the day in order to let it stand in the refrigerator for a few hours ahead of baking.

MEAT LOAF

3 lbs. ground beef
2 eggs, well beaten
2 Tbsp. chopped onion
½ cup finely chopped green pepper
2 Tbsp. melted butter
1 Tbsp. salt
¼ tsp. black pepper
1 cup soft bread crumbs

Break up meat in a large bowl. Combine egg, onion, green pepper, butter, salt, pepper and bread crumbs. Add to meat and mix thoroughly but gently with a fork. Pack meat into a greased 9 by 5 by 3 loaf pan. Cover and let stand in refrigerator several hours. Bake in slow oven, 300 degrees, for 1½ hours. Serves 6.

POTATOES ON THE HALF SHELL

6 medium potatoes
2 Tbsp. butter
1 teaspoon salt
¼ tsp. pepper
¼ cup hot milk

Scrub potatoes and dry thoroughly. Rub well with fat if a soft skin is desired. Bake in 425-degree oven for 45 minutes or until potatoes are soft when pressed together with the fingers (Be sure to use a towel for this squeezing job or you'll have burned fingers.)

Remove from oven and cut lengthwise into halves. Scoop out the insides, being careful not to break the skins. Mash thoroughly and add the butter, salt and pepper and hot milk. Beat 'till fluffy. Pile mixture back into shells; do not smooth down the top. Return to hot oven and brown lightly on top. Serves six or 12, depending on what kind of appetites your family brings to the table.

WE'VE ALL served cole slaw and we usually serve it cold. But like potato salad, it's just as good hot—if you like it hot. And the best way to find out if you like it hot is to give this recipe a whirl.

HOT SLAW

1 medium-sized green cabbage
6 slices bacon, coarsely chopped
½ teas. celery seed
¼ cup brown sugar, packed
½ teas. salt
¼ cup vinegar
¼ teas. dry mustard

Shred the cabbage coarsely. Cook the bacon over low heat in a large skillet until crisp. Remove the bacon pieces. Add the celery seed, brown sugar, salt and pepper, vinegar and dry mustard to the bacon drippings. Mix and stir until hot. Next add the shredded cabbage and toss until well coated with the hot dressing. Remove from heat and sprinkle with the bacon pieces.

IF YOU just know that your children will not eat anything as different as hot slaw, you can always fix a frozen vegetable for them.

Next comes dessert and pineapple upside-down cake has been a favorite for so long I don't have to tell you the children will love it . . . along with the adults.

PINEAPPLE UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

¼ cup butter or shortening
1 egg
¾ cup sugar
1½ cups cake flour
½ tsp. salt
½ cup milk
2 tsp. baking powder

Cream shortening with sugar until fluffy. Add egg and beat thoroughly. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk to shortening mixture. Beat until smooth and pour over prepared topping.

TOPPING

4 Tbsp. butter
1 cup brown sugar
4 slices pineapple
Red cherries for decoration.

Melt butter in bottom of skillet or square baking pan 8 by 8. Add brown sugar, blend thoroughly and spread evenly on bottom of pan. Place pineapple slices over the top of mixture. Add a cherry to center of each slice. Cover with batter mixture and bake in 350-degree oven for 30 minutes (or until cake springs back to touch).

Cool for a few minutes and turn out onto large dish. Be sure the dish is larger than the baking pan or you will lose a lot of the juice over the edge. Serve plain or with whipped cream.

FUMBLE THE BALL department: because of typographical errors, last week's recipe for applesauce cake came out a little strange. Missing was a half teaspoon each of cinnamon, nutmeg, cloves and allspice. The one and a half cups of shortening should have been only a half cup and only one and a half teaspoons of soda is needed instead of three teaspoons.

Wine Tasting Party Slated By Fellowship

A "Mizpah Vineyard Festival" will be held Saturday by the Mizpah Fellowship at 8 p.m. in the American Legion Hall in Rockaway Beach.

The wine-tasting party proceeds, according to general chairman Mrs. Donna Lokker, will be used for the maintenance of the Pacifica Blood Bank, which has been sponsored by Mizpah since 1954.

A donation of $1 per ticket will be charged and tickets are available from Mizpah members or from Mrs. Lokker at 359-3467.

The proper technique of tasting wines will be demonstrated and encouraged at the Mizpah festival. Sip a small amount of wine, clear the taste with a bite of cheese or French bread and then sip another kind of wine.

A small buffet will be served following the wine tasting. Door prizes will be given.

By LE PACINI

ABOUT A MONTH ago we began to write a column advocating government subsidy of Olympic athletes to counter the Russian "amateurs" and suddenly remembered an editorial we had written in college dealing with the same problem.

Checking our scrap book, we were surprised to discover that we had taken the opposite position in that long ago editorial, written before we were even entitled to a vote.

Following, in part, is the editorial:

Much has been said . . . about the Soviet Union building toward superiority in the Olympic games . . . (with) pros subsidized by the state and existing for the sole purpose of Red propagandists . . .

"Many American newspapermen, Olympic officials and diplomats have been . . . (saying) that we . . . had better start spending government money . . . (for) if we cannot achieve absolute victory in the . . . Olympics . . . we will suffer a crippling diplomatic blow . . .

"We think it is about time that the American people start thinking in terms of the true spirit of the Olympic games.

"The Olympic games were originated in Hellas (Greece) in 776 B.C. for the purpose of uniting a nation torn by warring tribes and cities that each possessed their own king. Once the momentary truces were called and athletic rather than warlike competition was tasted, the warring tribes soon forgot their bitterness.

"Shortly after the first games, Greece was a united nation. The games were not held to bring glory to the cities or tribes, but to the individuals . . .

"There is no reason why their (the Olympics) original purpose shouldn't be carried on. If the Russians have lost sight of the fact that there are supposedly no political issues involved in the games, there is no reason why we should . . .

"As leaders, we should set an example. The Soviet Union isn't fooling anyone that still has the freedom to draw his own conclusions. It is their business if they want to show . . . that they can achieve a hollow . . . victory . . .

"When the day comes that our athletes are told that they MUST win . . . at all costs, then we will have no right to criticize others.

"We can win without pros, and that WILL be a victory to be proud of."

There's only one thing wrong with "maturing" and becoming "sophisticated" and earning a vote—you tend to bury ideals, and that's dangerous.

We stand on our March 18, 1955 San Francisco State Gater editorial. It may be schmaltzy. But it's right.

WORLD SERIES NOTES: FIRST GAME, St. Louis, 9-5—What ever happened to Mel Allen? . . . there are, according to broadcasters, newspapers, managers and players, at least two dozen "turning points." The only real turning point in a World Series is when the umpire yells "play ball." . . . Joe Garagiola wisecracks that since Yankee switch-hitting shortstop-turned-outfielder Tom Tresh doesn't take after his right-handed hitting catcher-father, he must take after his mother . . . which should have earned Joe a sock on each eye by Tresh with both hands . . . Honeywell computer, having said before game that Yanks would take seven game series, now says Cards have 52 per cent chance of winning.

Second Game—Yanks, 8-3 . . . Pacini family should have been at Bay Meadows. Father Pacini wins three pools, Uncle Pacini wins one pool, author Pacini wins another . . . Notes suspended for day while we all celebrate . . .

Third Game—Yanks, 2-1 . . . Jim Bouton sets single game series record of hat-falling-off-head, with 37 drops, only 13 of which hit ground, due to exceptional reactions of Bouton (But pitching against the Giants late this season, Pirate pitcher Don Cardwell's hat hit ground 24 times in only eight and a third innings) . . . Honeywell computer confused, offers no comment . . . Father Pacini wins another pool, celebrates alone . . .

Fourth Game—Cards, 4-3 . . . Richardson loses double-play ball in big glove, proves our point of a column several months previous, in which we claimed infielders goofed more DP's because of inability to locate ball quickly than the occasional spectacular plays the large gloves afford are worth . . . Honeywell computer predicts Johnson will win . . . No Pacini pools . . .

Fifth Game—Cards, 5-2 . . . Richardson muffs another, makes us feel like double expert . . . Honeywell computer strangely silent . . . Tresh's HR prevents Father Pacini from winning another pool, Father Pacini hates all ambidextrous people . . .

Sixth Game—Yanks, 8-3 . . . We discover Mel Allen is operating Honeywell computer, curse of Pacini family broken, pool players relax, win at will, what else is important?

Seventh Game—Cards, 7-5 . . . For third time in Series, Yank defense, in other years its silent forte, gives away whole shebang . . . Yanks for one of few times in history, beat themselves, crack under pressure . . . Ford might have helped, but luck would have been better . . . Honeywell computer predicts Cards will win in seven, right for first time . . . Bob Gibson's posterior (which stopped Pepitone drive in fifth game, preventing Tresh's homer from winning it before exrta-innings set in) proves most important factor in Series, to take its place with Freddie Fitzimmons' pebble, Tony Kubek's Adam's Apple in World Series lore . . . What a distinction!

BASEBALL TAG-ENDS—Last week we mentioned the plight of Met pitcher Galen Cisco, who missed a distinction by losing only 19, since a 20-game loser is always considered a good one, having been allowed to pitch that often.

We slighted Cisco's teammate Tracy Stallard, who did indeed manage to lose 20. Stallard's the same guy who served Roger Maris number 61 a few years ago. Tracy has unique ways of making the record books.

Tuned in to Channel Two to watch the advertised "Meet Alvin Dark Show" last week. Didn't meet Alvin. Shoddy programming.

20-0 SPANKING

Rams Rout El Camino In Opener

By JOE WARD

The Westmoor Rams launched their quest Friday for a third straight North Peninsula League football title by drubbing El Camino, 20-0, at Clifford Field in South San Francisco.

It was the 11th league win in as many starts for Coach Pete Matisi's squad since the league was founded in 1952, and the third time they had taken the measure of the Colts.

Having his best day yet, Ram quarterback Mike Elston found the target 15 times in 21 pass attempts for 144 yards.

Spiced with the excellent running of Dave Dotur and Al Rodriguez, Elston's aerial attack was more than enough to take the revenge-minded Colts.

Westmoor first hit paydirt in the second quarter, when sophomore halfback Dave Dotur crashed over from the one-yard line. Key play in the drive, however, was a spectacular 82-yard run by little Al Rodriguez one play earlier.

Taking a handoff on his own 17, Rodriguez eluded the Colt defenders till caught from behind one yard short of the goal.

After the intermission, the Rams once again began to roll with Elston completing important passes to flanker Bill Waite and right end Hal Bobrow. The 72-yard drive was eventually capped when Dotur crashed over from eight yards out. His second conversion put the Rams on top, 14-0.

A fumble by Colt signal-caller Mike Tyler on his own 25 set up the final Ram tally.

Two plays later, Elston hit Waite on a 12-yard play which concluded the day's scoring.

Except for an opening quarter threat, which ended in a fumble, El Camino was never in contention.

Westmoor gained a total of 310 yards during the contest, while their out-gunned hosts from South S. F. managed only 109.

Coach Matisi said he felt his charges played a good tough game of football. Colt mentor Bob Sexton agreed that it was a good contest, but felt that his boys had suffered from "stage fright."

Indians Roll Easily Past Sharks, 32-6

By JIM FRANCO

The Jefferson High School Indians parlayed the passing finesse of Rich Quadra with the running of Al Namanny and an alert defense for a landslide victory in their opening game of the North Peninsula League football season Friday afternoon at Jefferson.

Quadra completed exactly half of his 14 tosses for 166 yards and a touchdown in leading the Indians to a 32-6 rout of the Oceana Sharks.

Jeff took the lead early when Quadra piloted the Indians 58 yards to their opening touchdown in the first quarter. Namanny scored his first touchdown on a three-yard run.

The Indians took over on their own 36 and set up their next touchdown on two long runs by Namanny and Quadra. The Jeff quarterback bulled over from the five for the touchdown.

Jeff's defensive unit recovered a pair of Oceana fumbles to set up two touchdowns. Quadra followed the first recovery with a 26-yard scoring toss to Rich Howe and threw a booming 701 yarder to Bob Untalan to set up the final Jeff touchdown. Quadra ran over from the five before the first half ended, and Namanny ran from the three on the Indians' final scoring drive.

Oceana, determined to avert a shutout, moved 50 yards to a touchdown in the final quarter. Halfback Steve McCaughty climaxed the drive with a six-yard run.

The PAL Pirates lived up to their name this week and did without the formality of a plank as they kicked the PAL Wildcats over the side, 48-0.

The Holy Angels Lions clawed up the BYA Broncos 18-6.

The PAL Tigers met the PAL Cougars and came away king of the jungle, 37-6. The strong arm of Vince Haymaker flipped TD passes to Billy Sherbert and Steve Azzarello to open the festivities.

This was followed by a ground attack that saw Damon Katz, Azzarello, Bill Sherbert and Haymaker cross to paydirt on running plays. Cougar cheers came in the fourth quarter when Rich Manning dashed 60 yards for their lone tally.

Albert Abbott led the BYA Renegades to their first league win by running back the opening kickoff to a touchdown against the PAL Indians. In the second quarter, he picked off an Indian pass and carried it over for another six points. In the fourth quarter, Don Giles picked off another Indian aerial and went 27 yards for the final score.

Bob Brignoli's OLPH Falcons picked up their second league win at the expense of the PAL Rams, 36-0.

Seventh Grade

Warriors Down Tigers, 42-0

The South San Francisco Warriors refused to believe the worn adage that "good things come in small packages" Friday.

The stout Warrior gridders from the windy Industrial City proved that they always don't and trekked across the mountain to the Coastside hamlet of Pacifica and handed the tiny Terra Nova Tigers a wors ebeating than the bordering Pacific Ocean could administer.

South SF, making its North Peninsula League debut, sunk the Tiger hopes, 42-0, before the awed hometown fans.

The Warriors, impressive in all departments, wracked up a total of 374 yards on the ground and added 46 in the air to end up with a total of 420 yards for the day. Terra Nova, repeatedly staggered by the Warrior defense headed by John Francis and Joe DelCarlo, ended up with 68 yards net.

The Tiger defenders put up a good showing in the first period, but succumbed to the hard-running backs of Coach Ray DeJong in the second period.

Greg Jones, who only saw limited action yet finished with 281 yards in 10 carries, got the first Warrior score in the initial stanza when he bulleted in from the seven yard line.

Carl (Bozo) Olson kicked the first of four extra points to give SSF a 7-0 lead.

In the second period, Tony Mateo started things going for South SF with a 26-yard paydirt scamper. Next, quarterback John Moro found end Ron Labrum in the clear and the duo hooked up for a 32-yard scoring effort.

Sam Gregory put the finishing touches on the first half of action when he gathered in a Tiger punt on the 50 yard line and raced it all the way back to give SSF a 28-0 halftime lead.

The Warriors added one more TD in each of the third and fourth periods. Mateo punched over from the three in the third stanza and Frank Cesena made his scoring debut in the fourth by running it in from the seven yard line.

They'll Use Baseballs--- Not Nozzles

A cross-Peninsula rivalry between two fire departments will be initiated Sunday with the first annual baseball game between Daly City and Palo Alto at noon in Marchbanks Park.

The last time the two teams met, Daly City won, 75.

The chambers of commerce for the two cities are purchasing a perpetual trophy to be presented to the winners each year.

A Most Valuable Player Award is being furnished by the North San Mateo County Insurance Agents Association.

The game, being played a little late this year, will be played in future years on the weekend before Fire Prevention Week. Admission will be free.

SEVEN-YEAR-OLD Diane Twitchell of 633 Larchmont Drive, Colma, is just a little taller than the painting she's admiring in the exhibit room of the Westlake branch of the Daly City Library. The painting, entitled "The Piper," is by Daly City Artist Jocelyn Adler who is exhibiting a number of works at the library throughout this month. The exhibit may be seen from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays.

D.C. Youngster Struck by Car

A three-year-old Daly City youngster suffered a head injury about 10:40 last Wednesday morning when he was struck by a car on San Diego Avenue, south of Knowles Avenue.

The boy, Matthew Silveria, 3, of 336 San Diego Avenue, was taken to San Mateo County General Hospital.

The driver of the auto, Marce Bardacos, 24, of San Francisco, told police the youngster had darted out from between a parked truck and auto.

New Councilman's Views

A Pacifica Leader Looks Ahead

By MARILYN BRANNAN

PACIFICA'S newest city councilman is a tall, gentle man with firm convictions concerning his civic duty and a decade of living in Pacifica to back them up.

A resident of Linda Mar for 11 years, Donald J. McMannis can be considered one of the area's "pioneers."

"When my wife, Jan, and I moved to Linda Mar, we were part of a small, just-beginning-to-walk community."

"Now we live in an incorporated city of about 28,000 people that is growing by leaps and bounds toward a projected population of 80,000," the councilman observed one morning over a cup of coffee.

McMannis is no newcomer to Pacifica affairs. He was a member of the first improvement association in Pedro Valley and was active in the initial move to incorporate the city of Pacifica.

"I was on the roster to run for a spot on the first city council when we started discussing incporation, but our first attempts were turned down," McMannis recalled.

WHEN THE city was successfully incorporated eight years ago, he again played a prominent part and became a member of the city's Planning Commission when it was established in 1957.

McMannis served as a planning commissioner until his appointment to the city council to fill the unexpired term of councilman and former mayor Harold Feyge who died August 21.

The auburn-haired community leader considers the city's new capital improvement program as the most vital business facing Pacifica at the present time.

"It itemizes the needs of our city for the next five years and is a blueprint we can follow in our move to help Pacifica mature and reach its potenial," he said.

HE EXPLAINED that the long-range $7-million program would be concerned with water bonds, school problems, sewage expansion, drainage controls and the acquisition of property for a civic community center building.

DONALD J. McMANNIS

"We recently had a study session to consider the need for a community center. We had a good turnout, excellent discussion and are planning to begin right away to form committees to find a site and consider how to finance the project." And he added, "We know what has to be done and our main job now is to sell it to the people."

McMannis also noted that the capital improvement program will include acquisition of beach lands for development into recreational facilities.

The plan to turn the beaches into a recreational mecca was one of Feyge's pet projects.

"Harold's vision of an esplanade running the entire length of the Pacifica coast was not a dream in essense," he stated.

"Pacifica's real potential lies in its recreational aspects and reality always begins with a dream."

He continued that Pacifica has the sapce to develop this type of facility and "our ocean is a natural."

SPEAKING FROM the practical view one would expect from the electrical engineer he is in private life, McMannis said Pacifica's hardest job now is to sell the improvement plan to the people and get community support.

"I'm afraid we don't have a Santa Claus tucked away and we need money, money and more money to realize our potential," he emphasized.

"It will be up to the people whether we can keep looking forward. We have to get started acquiring the properties we need right now. Land that costs $1 today will cost $3 tomorrow."

McMannis said he feels the city council has done a masterful job facing the problems of a new city.

"The council naturally must grow up right along with the city and our heavy growth means they must keep on their toes every second," he stated.

He congratulated the council and said it has done very well under the circumstances.

McMANNIS and his wife have two children, Kim, 11, and Paul, 13. Thhey live at 1008 Rosita Road.

He is employed as a district electrical engineer in northern San Mateo County for the Pacifica Gas and Electric Company.

In a few well-chosen words, this editorial endorsing ANDREW C. BYRD tells why we should elect "Andy" for the 27th Assembly District. Let us join the 13,000 voters in the North County who have already endorsed "Andy."

VOLUNTEERS TO ELECT BYRD ASSEMBLYMAN
John Ryan, Chairman, 1535 Los Altos, Burlingame

The Times
SAN MATEO TIMES AND DAILY NEWS LEADER

20 — The Times, San Mateo, Calif. Monday, October 12, 1964

Elect Andrew C. Byrd State Assemblyman

When Andrew C. Byrd announced that he would seek election as the Republican candidate for the California State Assembly in the Twenty-seventh Assembly District he said:

"Northern California needs action instead of words.

"The greatest problem we face in the north part of San Mateo County is the lack of effective leadership in solving the many problems, old and new, that we face in this fast growing area of California."

The Times agrees whole-heartedly with Byrd's succinct appraisal of what is needed for this county, for the northern part of the state, and for all California.

The Twenty-seventh District should send a man of vigor, of leadership, and of experience to Sacramento. Andy Byrd is that kind of a man and voters who elect him can expect that he will stand on his own legs instead of retiring into the lush green fields of established partisan politics where a long-standing majority provides pleasant pasturage and a chance to lie down with the herd under the benevolent eye of the majority leader.

Andy Byrd is forthright and courageous. It takes a man of forthright courage to contest an office in a district that was gerrymandered to give the opposition party "the bulge."

Andy Byrd is experienced. He served as a councilman in his home city of Burlingame for 14 years and was thrice elected Mayor.

In addition to having been one of the best Mayors in the history of Burlingame he has also proved quality of leadership by having been Chairman of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District.

In one of the most critical problems of San Mateo County, that of rapid transit, he has the knowledge of an expert. For many years he was president and co-owner of the Burlingame-San Mateo Transit Company.

Add all this up, and the thinking voter can only come to the same conclusion reached by The Times—Andy Byrd is the man to elect to the Assembly in the Twenty-seventh District.

Daniel Webster School Wins Again

Prizes Awarded in D.C. Fire Prevention Contest

Daniel Webster Elementary School took two first places and one second, which combined with its score in a fire drill test, gave it first place for the second year in a row in the annual Fire Prevention Contest in Daly City.

First place winners were given plaque trophies. Second place winners were given medallions.

The winners, their school and grade were:

Third grade — Janine Mignault of Our Lady of Perpetual Help, and Dennis Deaver, of Vista Mar; fourth grade—Cathy Castello of Daniel Webster and Helmuth Bachman, M. Pauline Brown, and fifth grade — Ray Taylor of Vista Mar and Jimmy Woodworth, of Thomas Edison.

Judges for the poster contest were Mrs Helen Cordell, art coordinator for the Jefferson Elementary School District; Melford D. Battye, Insurance Agents Assocation, and Ron Bates of The Post.

BETTER BUSINESS

Freezer Plan Caution Urged

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor, Better Business Bureau "Barometer"

"CAN I really get a freezer for nothing if I sign a food plan contract?"

The above is a common inquiry asked of Better Business Bureaus.

There is nothing wrong with the plan if the customer understands what the basic cash price is; how much the finance charges amount to; how to buy properly when food is in plentiful supply and cheap, and how to take advantage of specials. The Bureau is principally concerned that the purchaser goes into the Food-Freezer plan with his or her eyes open.

There are many conveniences that come from owning a home freezer, but a consumer does not have to join a food plan to enjoy these conveniences. There are many brands of freezers on the market that consumers can compare relative merits and buy the one he wants and on terms if he wishes.

IT IS extremely doubtful if anyone can save enough on frozen food purchases to make the required monthly payments on a freezer. The claims of a 30 per cent savings should be viewed with caution. A dealer cannot afford to sell food at "wholesale prices" and stay in business.

The bulk purchaser should be aware that fluctuation of food prices often makes quantity buy a gamble as there is always the possibility after heavily investing in food the market will drop.

Brands, weights and market prices vary on food. After a side of beef is cut and trimmed for eating, and the waste and bones eliminated, the fantastically cheap sirloin steak advertised will cost about regular market price.

ECONOMISTS of the Department of Agriculture have found that annual savings for city dwellers using freezers were little or nothing when their food bills were compared with those of families not owning freezers.

To get the utmost advantage from owning a freezer, the owner must be prepared to buy and keep buying in quantity, whether by cash outlay or by borrowing the money.

The more food that passes through a freezer in a year, the less will be the cost per pound of stored food. As a result of another study made by the Department of Agriculture, it was found that it costs between 10 and 26 cents per pound of food stored to own and operate a 360-pound freezer.

The Federal Trade Commission recently restrained a well-known food plan firm from representing that the company had any other purpose than to promote the sale of freezers. It forbade the firm from advertising that the plan's members could buy from wholesalers at "wholesale prices"; that the freezers were "free" or "gifts"; that an overall savings could be affected through the plan without disclosing how much actually had to be spent on foods through the plan to effect the savings.

TO SAFEGUARD himself a consumer should:

(1) Obtain a complete breakdown of all charges to be paid in connection with the food plan.

(2) Clearly understand the conditional sales contract to be signed for the freezer. The longer the payments run, the more the carrying charges. Monthly payments are expected to be made promptly even if the food-freezer company may have sold the contract to a finance company.

(3) What is the cost of the freezer and the food the consumer is obligated to buy?

(4) What are the carrying charges on the installment purchase? Figure these charges into the food budget.

(5) Are there extra charges, such as installation delivery of freezer, packaging, processing and delivery of food?

HOWARD HUTCHINS
Named to Post

Local Man Given Post

Howard H. Hutchins, manager of the international department at Bank of California in San Francisco, has been elected senior vice president, according to the bank's president, Charles de Bretteville.

He and his wife Helen, live at 225 Buckingham Way, Daly City.

Associated with Bank of California for 42 years, Hutchins has been an officer since 1943. He was named assistant vice president and international department manager in 1946 and elevated to vice president four years later.

She Doesn't Believe Now In Old Adage

Mrs. Howard Carter of Daly City doesn't believe any more in the old adage, "money does not grow on trees."

She found out Saturday it does. To the pleasant tune of $250, to be exact.

Mrs. Carter was named the winner in a free money tree drawing held by Westlake Shopping Center merchants in the center's mall.

She had deposited a coupon she had clipped from The Post—one of more than 50,000 coupons that were deposited by hopeful shoppers during the money tree promotion.

Although she wasn't present for the drawing, she quickly found out—by phone—that her money crop had been "harvested."

The tree, a live blue spruce bearing $250 in folding green, was delivered to her home at 328-A Higate Drive.

In addition to the overall center promotion, individual merchants also held drawings for merchandise awards.

3-Car Crash Injuries Two

Two Jefferson High School students were injured in a three-car accident Friday night at the intersection of Shakespeare Street and San Jose Avenue in Daly City.

Injured were Shirley Myers of 453 Santa Barbara Avenue and Terry Archuleta of 954 Hanover Street, Daly City.

Daly City Police reported that a car driven by Paula LaGrande of San Francisco apparently could not stop in time and ran into the rear end of a car driven by Miss Myers.

The car was pushed forward into a car driven by Terry DeMarco of 848 Lausanne Avenue. DeMarco had halted at an arterial stop sign at the intersection.

WINDOWS BROKEN

Mike Cavallaro of 48 Randolph Street, South San Francisco, reported to police last week that vandals had broken windows in his auto while it was parked in the 300 block of Peoria Street in Daly City.

THE "BEFORE NEED PLAN"

The ownership of Memorial property, purchased in advance of the actual need, does not shorten life by even a moment, but tends to prolong life through the sense of peace which comes to one's consciousness of a duty well done.

"You will never know what a satisfaction I felt in not having to make arrangements after my husband passed on. Your BEFORE NEED program should be more widely advertised."

.The above was expressed voluntarily.)

"BEFORE NEED ARRANGEMENTS" can be made on a time payment basis to suit your convenience without interest or carrying charges.

A Bible and Missionary Convension will be held at the Broadmoor Church of the Nazarene Friday, Saturday and Sunday, according to the Rev. Vernon E. Thomas, pastor.

Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Widmeyer of Pasadena will be guest speakers at the convention.

The Widmeyers have served the church as teachers, ministers and missionaries. Over 50 years ago, Dr. Widmeyer was instrumental in uniting a group of churches with the then young denominations, Reverend Thomas said. The Widmeyers were also teachers for many years at Pasadena College where he has also served as president.

Dr. Widmeyer has written numerous gospel songs, Reverend Thomas said, and the couple has served as missionary teachers and evangelists in Australia, Japan and Formosa.

They will speak at two evening services at 7:30 p.m. On Sunday they will speak at the 9:45 a.m. Sunday School, the 10:50 morning worship and at the 7 p.m. evening service.

Pastor E. Clark Robb of Seacliff said participation in the marathon missions sessions is a responsibility as well as a privilege for Seacliff members since the church has received much financial support during its first six years in Daly City as a "mission" church.

Bishop Evangelista's talk holds special interest for the Seacliff congregation since two of its active member families are from the Philippines.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cadelinia and Mr. and Mrs. Jaciento Lapitan of San Francisco are acquainted with many leaders in the United Church of Christ in the Philippines.

They will provide special music and will host a reception for the bishop following the service.

IS RECOMMENDED ON PROPOSITION #14

by a group of religious leaders of Daly City and San Francisco who issue the following statement:

"Have we not all one Father? Hath not One God created us?" (Malachai 2:10)

"We reject as unjust and undemocratic Proposition 14, which aims at the perpetuation of discrimination and bigotry in the area of housing in California. We call on all citizens to act upon their democratic and religious convictions by voting NO on Proposition 14 at the November 3rd election. For the sake of human rights, for the sake of our personal integrity and for the future of our state and nation, this Proposition must be defeated."

Terra Nova Topics

By LOU ANN ANDRE

IT'S ELECTION time once again at Terra Nova. This week has been full of competition and suspense for all candidates running for class offices.

All classes gathered at separate assemblies Monday morning, where they heard their candidates speak. Each class was given the opportunity to hear Dr. Harold Tonini speak on the conditions of the school and class conduct.

At last the big day came and ballots were passed out. Students made their final decision on Tuesday morning and received the results that afternoon.

The presidents of each class are: Cathy Miller, freshmen; Carol Alvarado, sophomore; Dave Patterson, junior, and Jeanie Rogers, senior.

ATHLETE OF the month is Ron Coleman. He started playing football in his sophomore year. He is also a top pole vaulter.

Frolicsome freshmen and other study body members gathered last Friday night for the first Co-Rec of the year. The well-chaperoned affair turned out to be fairly good, but we do expect to have better student participation for future events. All teachers who were considerate enough to stay and mange the Welcome Party ought to be given sincere thanks for their deep interests and use of their time.

P-TA BACK to school night was held Wednesday to allow parents to become familiar with the new Terra Nova. Programs and maps were issued to be used to guide them around the school. The Girls' League supplied girls to assist the inspecting parents. Refreshments were served in the multi-purpose room, after the parents were finished touring the school.

Beginning November 12, Terra Nova's Counseling and Guidance Department will conduct a series of night meetings for juniors and seniors and their parents. There will be discussions on topics most important to students who plan to attend college or who will do trade work in the future.

Now employed by United Airlines, the girls who will serve as hostesses of the banquet are, left to right, Shirley Turner of San Francisco, who worked as a nurses' aide in Laos; Evelyn Speer of 300 Palmcrest Drive, Daly City, who served as a registered nurse in Laos, and Lee Slatter of San Carlos, who taught for Tibetan refugees in India.

Program for Navy Officers Has Opened

All tuition, fees and books are furnished by the Navy and the student receives an annual retainer of $600 for not more than four years.

High school seniors and graduates between 17 and 21 by July 1, 1965, may apply for the NROTC aptitude test. Applications must be received by the Naval Examining Section, Science Research Associates Inc., 519 Sheridan Road, McHenry, Ill., not later than November 20.

Further information on the NROTC Program may be obtained by contacting Chief Petty Officer J. E. Kelly at 6705 Mission Street, Daly City.

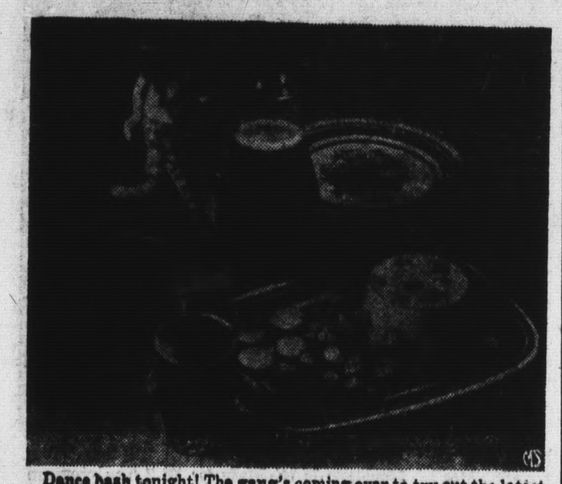
Party Ideas For Dancers



Dance bash tonight! The gang's coming over to try out the latest steps—and with intricate new dances like "The Frug", "The Pony" and "The Soup", you can bet lots of practice will be needed right on the spot.

COOLING-OFF TIME between practice dances demands imaginative refreshments. Smart and tasty choices are bubbly bright new soup drinks made from beef broth with soda or V-8 juice. These drinks, non-alcoholic counterparts of cocktails, are catching on fast with the "teen set." They're high in energy and low in the calorie department. Bite-size snacks, like tiny cherry tomatoes stuffed with a sardine filling and some cheese dips, complement the drinks and go easy on teen-age allowances.

To be sure the evening is good fun all the way through (no broken dinnerware during refreshments!) and to limit those clean-up chores to a wee minimum, serve your favorite snacks on gay "party-proof" melamine plates. The patterns are pretty and colorful, like this perky floral design; the plates are lightweight and very durable; and they're dishwasher proof, too!

You can start the fun rolling with the quick-and-easy "Soup Fizz" shown here. Make it this way:

Soup Fizz

1 can (10½ oz.) condensed tomato soup
¼ soup can water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 bottle (7 oz.) chilled lemon-lime soda
Lemon peel

Combine soup, water and lemon juice. Stir to blend. Add soda just before serving. Pour over cracked ice in glasses. Garnish with twist of lemon peel. Serve in glass mugs, small highball glasses or tumblers. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

For a beverage variation, here's another delicious quickie:

Red Cow

1 can (10½ oz.) condensed beef broth
1 can (12 oz.) V-8 juice

Combine broth and juice. Serve over cracked ice, in cocktail glasses or stemmed wine glasses. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

This Chicken Is Scalloped

You have a meal in a casserole when you prepare delicious "Scalloped Chicken." Ripe olives lend true distinction to this main dish, which also calls for fresh mushrooms.

Scalloped Chicken

1 ready-to-cook 3-lb. stewing chicken
Salt
1 cup ripe olives
2 cups sliced fresh mushrooms
5 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
¾ cup light cream or half-and-half
Dash cayenne
½ cup white dinner wine or chicken broth
1 chopped pimiento
1 cup grated sharp American cheese

Place chicken in large kettle; add 2 teaspoons salt and hot water just to cover chicken. Cover and cook slowly 2 to 3 hours until tender. Drain and save broth. Cool chicken sufficiently to handle; remove skin and bones, and slice meat. Cut olives into medium-size pieces. Cook mushrooms in 2 tablespoons butter about 5 minutes. Remove mushrooms. Add remaining butter; heat to melt. Beldn in flour. Blend in ¾ cup broth and cream; cook and stir until mixutre boils and is thickened. Add cayenne, salt to taste and wine. Stir in pimiento and half of chese. In greased shallow baking dish arrange in layers chicken, olives, mushrooms and sauce. Top with remaining cheese. Bake in 350-degree (moderate) oven about 30 minutes.

Makes 6 servings.

Just for Two— A Barbecue

Summer or fall, it's a smart bride who makes barbecuing a regular part of her menu-planning program. Even without a terrace, yard or patio, it's easy to enjoy charcoal-cooked foods with a table-top hibachi; and the new husband will be proud to show off his skill at the grill.

A GOOD TRICK is to plan an entire meal to be cooked on the grill, eliminating many dishwashing chores, timing problems and other culinary hazards for the beginner. And another good trick is to set the table with modern melamine dinnerware, like the gaily bordered casual pattern shown here. It's easy to handle, it's chip— and break-resistant (even when dropped by an awkward new chef!), and it's perfectly at home in the automatic dishwasher.

A wonderful choice for a just-for-two cookout, or "cook in," is this menu featuring super-special lamb chops, little kebabs of alternating canned whole onions and mushroom crowns, and pineapple rings. For a Far Eastern touch, fill out the menu with fluffy rice and spicy chutney.

Here's the lamb-chop recipe that will convince him she has a [illegible] from the Cordon Bleu:

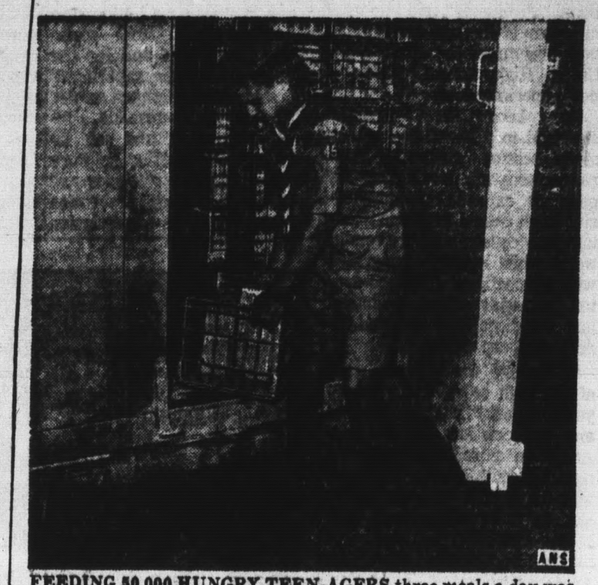
Chow Time At Valley Forge



FEEDING 50,000 HUNGRY TEEN-AGERS three meals a day was an exercise in logistics during the Sixth National Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge State Park, Pa.

Tons of meat, produce, dairy products, and baked goods were trucked into the park daily to provide basic ingredients from which Scouts prepared their own meals. To keep perishables fresh and untainted, 46 Bally walk-in refrigerators insulated with vermin-proof, fire-retardant urethane foam were erected. Now resold to local councils, the same units are being shipped around the country to regional camp sites for permanent installation.

Special Scout recipes helped youngsters prepare appetizing meals at the Jamboree. Economy-minded mothers may like one that shows a way to stretch 1½ pounds of hamburger to feed 10 people.

GEORGE'S GOULASH

1 teaspoon salt
1 pound spaghetti or elbow macaroni
2 tablespoons shortening
1-1/2 pounds ground beef
1 soup can water
1 11-ounce can condensed chili beef soup
1 10-ounce can condensed tomato soup
1 10-ounce can condensed vegetable soup

Bring 4 quarts of water to a boil, add salt, stir and add spaghetti or macaroni; boil for ten minutes or until spaghetti is tender. Melt shortening and brown beef in small pieces; blend in soups and water and heat. Drain spaghetti, add to meat sauce and serve.

Watch Weight With a Salad

West of the Rockies there is more of a tendency than in other parts of the country to make a whole meal out of a salad.

Take California, for example. Some Californians would have you believe that virtually anything coming in contact with their state's fertile soil grows bigger and better than anywhere else. True or not, the Golden State certainly leads the nation in agriculture and its residents enjoy nothing more than sitting down to a main-dish vegetable or fruit salad.

However, you don't need to live out west in order to treat your palate to the salad foods grown there. Something like wesetrn iceberg lettuce, a primary ingredient in so many salad specialties, is available the year-round everywhere in the country. California's No. 1 truck crop, it arrives in far-distant markets as crisp and flavorful as salad connoisseurs could wish, thanks to up-to-date transportation methods and vacuum-cooling.

This firm head lettuce is chilled and shredded for "Weight - Watchers Western Salad," a salad entree to catch your fancy whether you count calories or not.

Oregano-seasoned green beans and sliced mushrooms are marinated in low-calorie Italian dressing, then tossed lightly with the spring-green western iceberg, hard-cooked egg and pimiento. It's a culinary color splash—very easy to prepare, very hard to beat for a blend of delicious flavors and very considerate of the calorie-conscious with only about 115 calories per serving.

The time is particularly ripe for savoring nutritious "Weight-Watchers Western Salad," a treat that does credit to the salad country of the west where western iceberg lettuce is king of the salad greens.

WEIGHT-WATCHERS WESTERN SALAD

1 medium head western iceberg lettuce
1 can (1 lb.) cut green beans
¼ lb. fresh mushrooms or 1 can (2 oz.) sliced mushrooms, drained
¼ teaspoon crushed dried oregano
½ cup low-calorie Italian dressing
6 hard-cooked eggs
1 whole pimiento

Core lettuce, rinse in cold water and drain well. Place in plastic bag or transparent film; chill. Drain beans. Wash, drain and slice fresh mushrooms; mix in bowl with beans, oregano and dressing. Chill to blend flavors. Just before serving, quarter eggs; cut pimiento into wide strips. Cut head of lettuce lengthwise into halves; place cut-sides down on chopping board. Shred across heart of lettuce with sharp knife; place lettuce in large bowl. Add bean mixture, egg and pimiento. Toss lightly. Add salt and pepper to taste if you wish. Serve at once. Makes 6 serving .

Honey Fruit Rice Ring Fills Bill

The seasons come and go, growing time yields to harvest aplenty, and with harvests completed we wait for planting weather to begin again. Wise homemakers plan their meals to take advantage of prime times for fresh produce. Summer months are filled with fresh fruit salads and desserts. Autumn gives us an array of tantalizing fresh vegetables to savor.

Fortunately some of our most delicious fresh products know no season. Honey possesses this desirable quality. Honey is harvested in fall, packaged, and is then ready for you to serve in a variety of ways the rest of the year.

Honey remains continuously fresh since bacteria which cause diseases in human beings cannot grow in it. Crystallized honey is not spoiled and may be liquified quickly by placing the honey container in a bowl of warm (not hot) water.

If you keep a container of honey on your shelf, it will always be handy for such tasty creations as Honey Fruit Rice Ring. While fresh fruits are still plentiful, fill the rice ring with juicy slices of peach, apricot, plum, nectarine or plump flavorful berries.

Later Honey Fruit Rice Ring will lend itself to a winter dessert filled with canned or frozen fruits.

HONEY FRUIT RICE RING

3 tablespoons cornstarch
½ teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1½ cups milk
1 tablespoon butter
¼ cup honey
2 cups cooked rice

Put cornstarch and salt in top of double boiler. Add egg yolks and milk. Stir well. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Remove from heat. Add butter, honey, and rice. Fold in beaten whites of eggs. Turn into buttered ring mold. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) 30 minutes. Cool. Unmold carefully. Fill center with fruit.

Fresh Fruit Cobbler is more than delicious when this delicious sauce is added: Soften one 3-ounce package cream cheese with ¼-cup heavy cream or undiluted evaporated milk. Add a bit of salt, 1 tablespoon honey, and ½-teaspoon vanilla extract. Mix well. Makes about two-thirds cup sauce.

Vocational Training Urged for Educational 'Dead Ends' in S.M.

Technical and vocational training to channel all high school students around educational "dead ends" and into useful roles in the age of automation was urged by San Mateo Union High School District's new superintendent.

Dr. Leon M. Lessinger sketched to a board of trustees study session a broad long-range program having as its goal an expanded comprehensive high school program feeding into college and university work while closely integrated with a vocational guidance center, an adult school, technical and vocational schools, and direct work experience.

"I believe the primary task of the high school is to supply youth with the basic knowledges and appreciations to be good American citizens and good human beings," Doctor Lessinger told the board. "We should insist on a broad general high school education centered on major, serviceable ideas for all."

American high schools today do a good job of offering general and cultural education to all, Doctor Lessinger noted, but many fail to relate school work to the work world, and fail to provide the non-college-bound student with motive and purpose.

With the nation's manpower requirements shifting rapidly to reward skilled workers and those with advanced training while by-passing the unskilled, Doctor Lessinger saw high school education not as an end in itself but as an avenue toward individual specialization.

"A comprehensive education should enable youth to move into their next role in life whether that be to attend college, junior college, a professional school, a vocational-technical school, an apprenticeship program, or to enter directly into employment," Doctor Lessinger told the board. "There must be no dead-end programs."

The superintendent advocated comprehensive high schools large enough to afford diversified, well-balanced programs, and designation of individual schools with specialized facilities and equipment to draw a district-wide student body where programs are too costly to justify them for all schools.

"The purpose of education is to encourage the ordinary and average to develop into effective and responsible citizens, to become people who will act humanely as individuals and tolerantly as members of groups, and to become parents who will find joy in themselves and in their children," Doctor Lessinger said. "At the same time this education seeks to be flexible enough to provide scope for intelligence and bright talents, to nurture leadership and to encourage the adventurous spirit."

This district is fortunate, he said, in having a tax base and populations sufficient to justify a comprehensive system, and in having "the strong spirit which permeates the patrons of our district to make this district second to none."

Advocating a phased curriculum over a tracked curriculum, Doctor Lessinger termed college prep and non-college prep "misleading" designations.

"There are a variety of patterns leading to colleges as well as a variety of post-high school institutions at the collegiate level," he noted. "We cannot supply specific vocational skills but we can supply the skills of communication, computation and habits of thought which are basic for vocational success. We can provide vocational guidance, but preparation for a specific occupation has little place in the high school curriculum."

Doctor Lessinger dwelt at length on the concept of an adult school and a vocational guidance referral and diagnostic center operated jointly by the high school and the adult school to serve high school students, dro-outs, adults returning to work, and adults needing job re-training.

The adult school should be separately administered and financed, with day and evening classes in general education and technical-vocational training for the jobless and for the under-employed, the superintendent said. The guidance center would provide counseling, referral, placement and job instruction, co-ordinating its work with that of other agencies and resources. Drop-out prevention would be one of its major tasks.

"This would require systematic and concentrated attention to the potential drop-out," Doctor Lessinger declared. "Far more than counseling would be involved on this level. Those who have already dropped out might require help to get into other schools or training, or jobs on a work-study basis. Keeping the educational door open for these young people is essential. Many will become ready and even eager for more training when they find themselves unable to get work, or jobs they can get prove unsatisfactory and unrewarding."

Doctor Lessinger advocated using high school counselors as part-time workers at the guidance center as a means of meshing high school vocational training with the realities of the working community, and to keep the center from becoming "a remote advisory body."

Coffee Chocolate Dessert Is Easy

The wonderful flavors of coffee and chocolate are combined in this easy-to-make dessert. Make it early in the day when you're having people in for bridge or to watch a special TV program . . . it serves eight generously. Serve hot decaffeinated coffee black, or with cream and sugar, as the perfect accompaniment.

REFRIGERATOR DESSERT

1 square unsweetened chocolate
2 egg whites
¼ cup unsifted confectioners' sugar
2 egg yolks
¼ cup unsifted confectioners' sugar
½ cup butter
1 tablespoon instant coffee
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups unsifted confectioners' sugar
3 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup chopped pecans, toasted
Vanilla wafers
Sweetened whipped cream
Additional toasted, chopped pecans

Melt chocolate over very low heat. Cool. Meanwhile, beat egg whites until foamy throughout. Add ¼-cup of the confectioners' sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating well after each addition; continue beating until peaks will form. Beat egg yolks. Add ¼-cup confectioners' sugar; beat until well blended.

Cream the butter. Sift instant coffee, salt, and remaining 1½ cups confectioners' sugar. Add to butter and mix well. Blend in chocolate, milk, and vanilla. Fold in egg yolk mixture and pecans. Fold in egg white mixture. Pour the chocolate mixture into a serving bowl. Chill until set — about 3 hours. Arrange wafers around sides of bowl. Garnish with whipped cream and additional pecans. Makes about 3½ cups, enough for 9 servings.

Hash and Eggs Is Hearty Fare

Needing some ideas for a hearty fall luncheon or dinner maindish? Canned corned-beef hash acquires new flavor interest when it is frosted with a sour cream mixture and topped with eggs that have been fried to perfection.

There's a trick to fried eggs with the yolks cooked just right—use just enough butter to coat the skillet and heat until hot enough to sizzle a drop of water. Slip the eggs into the skillet, one at a time, and lower the heat. When the whites are set and edges cooked, add ½-teaspoon water per egg. Cover the skillet and cook until they're done the way you like.

CORNED-BEEF HASH AND FRIED EGGS

3 tablespoons butter
½ cup chopped onion
2 15½-ounce cans corned-beef hash
½ cup dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons frozen or freeze dried chopped chives
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
6 eggs

Lightly butter a 10x6x1½-inch baking dish. Melt 1 tablespoon butter in a small skillet. Saute chopped onion in butter until tender, about 5 minutes. In a large bowl, break up hash with fork. Stir in onion, mixing well. Turn into buttered baking dish.

Combine sour cream, chopped chives, mustard, salt and pepper. Spread mixture over hash and bake at 350 degrees Fahrenheit for 20 to 25 minutes, or until thoroughly hot. Meanwhile, fry eggs in remaining butter over low heat until set.

To serve, cut hash into 6 servings, and arrange on a platter. Top each serving with a fried eggs. (Makes 6 servings.)

Vary Your Vegetable Entree Too

To vary a vegetable, and surprise guests, you may want to serve this "different" combination.

Skillet Chicken with Rice
Celery Frances Tomato Aspic
Ice Cream Beverage

CELERY FRANCES

3 cups celery crescents, ⅛ to ¼ inch thick
1 cup boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons butter
1 large onion, finely chopped (1 scant cup)
1 can (6 ounces) chopped mushrooms, drained
Freshly ground pepper to taste

In a medium covered saucepan, boil the celery with the boiling water and salt until just tender—5 to 8 minutes; drain. In the saucepan cook the onion and mushrooms in the butter until the onion is golden. Add celery and reheat; stir in pepper. Makes four to six servings.

Gingerbread A Delight

Here's a new recipe for gingerbread:

Mochamallow Gingerbread

1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 cups light molasses
2 eggs, beaten
5½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons, each, cinnamon, ginger, allspice
½ teaspoon nutmeg
2 cups strong coffee beverage
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 cup miniature marshmallows
1 cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces

Cream shortening and sugar. Blend in molasses and eggs. Mix and sift flour, baking soda, salt and spices. Add alternately with coffee to molasses mixture. Stir in vanilla. Fold in marshmallows and chocolate pieces. Pour into greased and floured oblong pan 13x9x2 inches. Bake at 325 degrees for about one hour. Cool in pan 10 minutes. Remove to cake rack to finish cooling. Cut in four lengthwise strips, then cut each strip crosswise into one-inch slices. Makes 52 slices.

Cheese Always Is in Season

Cheese is one food that's always in season, always in style, always in harmony with other foods on the menu. If you're a cheese lover, sample at least two new cheese varieties each time you shop. Try smoky Provolone, mild Brick, nutlike Swiss, or mellow Gouda which is the one that comes coated in red wax. Keep these and other cheese favorites on hand for snacks, sandwiches and hot dishes. Cheese is easy to store, wrap tightly in either two wrappings of waxed paper, or waxed paper and aluminum foil, or transparent plastic wrap, or in an airtight container. The cooler the temperature at which cheese is stored, the longer it will keep.

Gene Allen of 588 Skyline Drive; Samuel Benezra of 976 Skyline; Richard Otis of 799 Skyline; Peter F. Spira of 306 Skyline; Blair Tudor of 97 Crestview Avenue; Edward Toper of 90 Clifton Drive and Lawrence F. McCaffrey of 109 Ashland Drive.

New Apartment Plan Approved

Pacifica planning commissioners approved a modified general plan for a major new apartment development in the Fairmont 4 Area near Skyline and Hickey Boulevards Monday night.

Developers Joseph and Philip Karp had requested modification of a previously approved general plan to include a layout for a major recreational facility for some 27 buildings on 17 acres. Plans call for approximately 400 dwelling units.

More specific plans will be submitted by developers at the commission's meeting next week.

In other actions, commissioners:

Continued until November 2 an application of William R. Russell for a variance permit to allow him to build three homes on substandard sized lots on Carmel Avenue and Canyon Drive.

Granted Louis C. deLiscia a variance permit to construct two homes on substandard lots on Genevieve Avenue between Fern and Ursula Avenues.

Approved a variance for Ina May Herman to construct a home on a substandard lot on Carmel Avenue between Vallejo and Sierra Terraces.

Continued until November 2 an application for a variance permit from Chaffie C. Gill to allow an addition to a residence and relocation of an office building on Francisco Boulevard at Pacific Avenue.

Gateway Hosts D.C. Art Show

Gateway Chevrolet, at 7100 Mission Street, will sponsor an art show Saturday in its showroom, according to Larry Robinson, general manager of the firm.

The display is planned as a semi-annual event to be held by the Varlow Gallery of San Francisco in conjunction with The Cory Gallery.

Independent local artists are invited to submit their works, Robinson said.

Coast Park Master Plan Stays Same

Pacifica's Park, Beach and Recreation Commission last week held its annual meeting to consider the department's master plan for the new year.

Recreation Director Lokker says the basic concepts of the Commission remain the same this year and that policy will not change.

"The recreation program depends almost solely upon the outcome of the five-year Capital Improvement Plan now being considered by the City Council, he points out.

In further business, the Commission approved new appointments to its committees. Three new committees were set up with citizens invited to head them. The other committees are under the leadership of commissioners.

Here are the committees:

These newly formed committees and chairmen are:

Fish and game, Albert Gilvillan, 207 Manor Drive; hiking and riding, Bob Hopper, 119 McKinny Avenue, and Park sites, Gene Ottonello, 1452 Adobe Drive.

Members of the other committees are:

Baseball co-ordinating committee, John J. McCoy, 640 Canyon Drive; beach commercial recreation and land use committee, McCoy and Mrs. Shiela Hyman, 836 Standish Road and budget committee, Mrs. Hyman.

Beautification and Street trees, Mary Beauvais, 811 Linda Mar Boulevard, and Wilbur, 1322 Grand Avenue; objectives committee, George Bonebrake, 1190 Encanto and McCoy.

Policy and code review, Walter Griffiths, 436 Del Mar Avenue, Bonebrake and Margaret Moseley, 8 Duran Court; teen committee, Mrs. Moseley and school recreation site committee, Frye.

D. C. Plan Board Mulls Long Agenda

The Daly City Planning Commission will tackle a long agenda when it meets Tuesday at 8 p.m. in City Hall.

The length is the result of planners' cancelling a meeting to attend the League of California Cities meeting last week in Los Angeles.

Among the major items to be considered are:

Rezoning of two lots on the west side of Station Avenue between School and Vale Streets from single family to apartments. The rezoning request, filed by Harry Curusis of 6767 Mission Street and two others, has met with opposition from neighboring residents.

Rezoning of six lots located between Acton Street and Alturas Way from single family to apartments.

A variance request to reduce the front setback to seven and one half feet on 37 lots in the Sylvan Park development.

A use permit filed by the Wesley Methodist Church of 1474 Southgate Avenue to erect a church in a commercial zone.

A use permit filed by Dino Agresti of 68 First Avenue, Daly City, for a tavern in a commercial district at 7379 Mission Street.

S.S.F. Man Collapses After Reporting Fire

A South San Francisco man collapsed with a heart attack while reporting his house on fire Monday afternoon.

Ray Benjamin Husky, 67, Highland Avenue, was revived by a fire department resuscitator crew called to the scene of Husky's blazing house.

The house was also saved by firefighters led by Chief John Marchi.

Husy told the fire chief he had been heating a large pan of grease on the kitchen stove. As he removed the pan, he said, the grease caught fire, then spilled to the floor and poured into an adjacent living room.

The boiling flood of burning grease ignited a sofa, an overstuffed chair, and a rug, and Husky ran out the back door, unable to reach his own telephone.

Heading for a neighbor's house, Husky jumped over a four-foot side fence and pounded on the back door.

As the neighbor phoned to report a "grease fire," Husky's chronic heart ailment struck, and he collapsed on the lawn.

Fire Chief Marchi reports the first engine on the scene called an additional engine and a resuscitator. The two crews restricted the blaze to the sofa, rug, and chair, but smoke damage was extensive, Marchi said.

He estimated the loss at around $2,500, mostly to the furnishings, and because of smoke and soot damage to the other parts of the house.

Husky refused to be taken to a hospital.

$1-Million Sought For S.S.F. Church

A new church is being planned for All Souls Catholic parish in South San Francisco, and $1-million is being sought to build it.

Monsignor Eugene Gallagher said the campaign to raise funds is being directed by F. D. Minucciani and Nick Kunis.

He said the fund drive is already a quarter of the way to its goal.

When the money is collected, indicated Msgr. Gallagher, construction will start on a 900-seat church to replace the one which burned April 22.

"If we make the goal," he said, "it will allow us to construct a church that will serve the parish for many years to come."

The new church to be built on the now-gravelled site at Miller and Walnut Avenues, will include a convent, a rectory, and a social hall underneath the structure.

Roger Ranuio had been named as architect, and projects a sanctuary seating the worshipers in pews circling three-quarters of the way around the altar, with exterior and interior arches and a center cupola.

2 Daly City Youngsters Hit by Car

Two Daly City youngsters suffered minor injuries when they were struck by autos in separate accidents that occurred within 20 minutes of each other Saturday afternoon in Daly City.

Timothy Noreen, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Noreen of 10 Northridge Drive, suffered cuts and bruises when he was struck by an auto near his home. He was treated at Children's Hospital in San Francisco.

The driver of the auto, Joseph P. Acquistapace, 26, of 110 Avalon Drive, Daly City, told police the youngster had run out into the street from between parked autos.

In the other accident, David Feinberg, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard I. Feinberg of 35 Alpine Avenue, Daly City, suffered a cut on the right wrist when he was struck by an auto on Ocean Grove Avenue, east of Southgate Avenue.

He also was treated at Children's Hospital.

The driver, Johanna Cotton, 30, of 363 Skyline Drive, Daly City, told police the youngster had darted into the path or her auto from behind a parked car.

PARTS STOLEN

Dave White Auto Sales at 7577 Mission Street, Daly City, reported to police over the weekend that a glove compartment cover and ash tray had been stolen from a used car.

In this day and age...

SHOULD GARAGES BE FORCED TO HIRE BLACKSMITHS?

No more than railroads should be forced to hire firemen on diesel freight locomotives where there are no fires to tend nor coal to shovel.

It would cost you money every time your car was in the garage if garages had to hire featherbedding blacksmiths.

And it costs you money every day in higher freight rates on the food and goods you buy because an old horse-and-buggy-days law requires California railroads to hire featherbedding firemen.

Proposition 17 repeals that costly, outmoded law. Proposition 17 makes it possible for California to put into effect the national transportation settlements—worked out by Congress and Presidents EISENHOWER, KENNEDY and JOHNSON—which eliminate wasteful featherbedding in the railroad industry under terms that insure maximum job protection, yet retain two men in the cab of all trains.

Keep California competitive...

END WASTEFUL RAILROAD FEATHERBEDDING!

All American Contest Set

The Daly City Department of Recreation has begun All-American Contest and Cheerleader Championships on all local playgrounds. Boys from six years of age through high school will compete in several football events to determine who has All-American potential.

Girls will compete in teams for the cheerleader championship in elementary and intermediate school divisions.

The All-American Contest will consist of pass for distance, pass for accuracy, punt for distance and a touchdown dash.

The winners of the various playgrounds will be eligible to compete in the city-wide All-American Contest and Cheerleader Championships at Westlake Park on October 31.

Boys six years of age to those in the fifth grade will compete on the playground level only. Boys in the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades and high school students will be eligible to compete in those divisions at the playgrounds and the winners in the city-wide finals.

In the Cheerleader Championships, girls will be divided into two divisions, elementary school and intermediate school divisions. The playground winners in both divisions will compete in the city-wide Cheerleader Championships.

On the day of the city-wide finals at Westlake Park, all the individual events will be open to anyone interested in participating in the individual championships with the exception of the Cheerleader Championships and the total score towards the All-American Contest.

ONE OF 12 DISTRICTS

JESD to Join in Study Of Fitness and Ability

By MARILYN BRANNAN

THE JEFFERSON Elementary School District is one of 12 elementary and high school districts in California chosen to participate in a study to determine the relationship between a child's physical condition and his learning abilities.

Jefferson Supt. Richard L. Foster says the district is delighted to be among those selected to help determine exactly how physical health and intellectual achievement relate to one another.

Dr. B. Otis Cobb, director of the study project, has announced that approximately 2,500 students throughout California will be examined during the 1964-65 school year.

He asked that 120 pupils from the Jefferson Elementary district be selected. Forty kindergarten children, 40 first graders and 40 fifth graders will be tested.

Foster has written to Dr. Cobb for further information before deciding which school will be chosen to participate in the study.

FOSTER SAID all examinations will be carried out with parental approval. Those children selected to participate will be given permission forms to be filled out by parents.

Dr. Cobb has asked Foster to obtain family health information from the parents of selected students.

Part of the examination will be devoted to personal interviews with parents as well as with children.

Officials also will evaluate, under supervision of the district's guidance personnel, information from school records that concerns aspects of academic performance of the students involved.

The study group will bring three trailers to the school in which to conduct the examinations and will supply all necessary funds, personnel and materials.

FOSTER SAID Dr. Cobb plans to conduct tests in the district November 30 and December 1 and 2.

"The total time commitment for each pupil will be approximately two separate half-day sessions," he explained.

Members of the speech and nursing staffs may observe the testing, Foster said.

An experimental design of the project and researching for it was conducted at the demonstration elementary school on the campus of the University of California at Los Angeles.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

X-rays in dentistry properly taken and read (diagnosed) reveal diseased conditions which are a menace to general health of a person. One dangerous condition is one that is sometimes called a "blind abscess." The patient is not aware of the condition because there is no outward sign of trouble. The tooth is not sore, nor the gum inflamed. Sometimes these teeth are filled or crowned and seem to be perfect. In many cases pus constantly forms on the roots and the blood is continually spreading the poison throughout the body. X-rays will show these conditions because the pictures enable a dentist to look right through the flesh, muscles and jaw bones to see what is wrong. Visit your personal dentist for X-ray pictures.

In Northern California Dr. Campbell limits his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.
